More State Funds In a bulletin released this week the Newton Taxpayers' Associa-tion, through Lorenz Muther, Jr., its Executive Secretary, advo-cates support for the recommended use of surplus money to help reduce the large anticipated tax rate increase likely to go into effect this year. The surplus, as of April 30, amounted to $440,000, and the Taxpayers' group recommended that $350,000 of that amount be used to lower the proposed increased rate by about $1.60 per one thousand dollars of valuation. This would leave approximately only $90,000 in the surplus account for use of emergency items It was announced last week that the 1952 tax rate of the city faced an increase of between $7 and $11 per one thousand dollars of val-

Methods Used To Report Newton Fires

Most fires are small when they start, their early detection and calling the Fire Department at once is of great importance in order to hold the fire to the seat of origin. In Newton there are three methods that can be used to call the Fire Department;

Telephone — This is the most widely used means of calling the Fire Department because of its accessibility. When using this means to call the Fire Depart-ment, either dial BI 4-0030 or Operator. If you dial Operator, say "Emergency Fire", when she answers. After connections have been established with Fire Headquarters and they answer, say, "I want to report a fire." Give them the street and number, the section of the city and the type of fire that you are reporting. If they request your name and tele-phone number give it to them. Speak clearly and not too fast so that you will have to repeat. Do not hang up until they have all of the information that they

Please do NOT call the Fire Department on stormy days to find out if there is any school. This plugs up our switchboard and could prevent emergency calls from coming through. For School" listen to your radio at the stated time and the correct radio station.

Street Fire Alarm Boxes-Newton has two types of fire alarm boxes in service at the present time. The older one is the "Break Glass" type. To send in an alarm from this type, the glass, in the small house must be turned either way and the outside pulled open. Inside is a lever which must be pulled down and released in order to start the signaling mechanism in operation. Turning the handle and opening the door does not send in the alarm.

The newer type is the "Fast Action" type of box. In order to send in an alarm from this type, pull down the small door on the front of the box and then press down the lever and release it.

The amount of expansion is greatly exaggerated in the report. Steel expands very little. Spans of less than 70 feet do not require any specific mechan-ism for expansion. Steel string-

"The most outstanding examples of irresponsibility by the Department are shown in trying to pass the buck to the erection sub-contractor, for fun-damental mistakes in design and measurement, and in their cal-lous inattention to public safety. In his official report, Mr. Calla-han says: "inspectors called the matter of the angle of rockers to the attention of the steel It's Here! erectors . . . If they had given orders to the steel company to set these rockers otherwise and anything had happened to same, this Department would have been held responsible." This discloses that the inspectors representing the Department of Public Works observed the dangerous condition after the steel was up, but did not order it changed because that would have spoiled their chance of passing the buck. This is the Department that seeks public credit at every detour for the great new highway program but is afraid to accept any responsibility for the way in which the highways are being built. Actually, if the sub-con-tractor furnished stringers of placed them in the positions called for by the contract, he performed his contract, and it Super Cushion

"The most irresponsible thing of all, however, was for the Department to permit traffic to flow under the questionable span. Even after they observed that the rockers were out of line, in fact 18 degrees from vertical, they did not rope off the area. They did not rope off the area. They did not stop the busses from using it. They invited the public to use this menaced roadway and held a Sword of Damacles over the heads of the bus riders. It was not any credit to the Department but purely a to the Department but purely a stroke of good luck that tons of steel did not come crashing down five minutes sooner, when a bus full of people rode under the

First Baptists Move Into First Place

The First Baptists moved tem-porarily into first place in the Newton Church Softball league last Wednesday, as they soundly whipped an undermanned Second Congregational Church team by a gridiron score of 30

This was the only game re-ported played and sets the Baptists ahead of the two second place teams, the Newtonville Methodists and the First United Presbyterians. At this writing, however, the Methodists have played two less games and the Presbyterians one less, giving both a chance to catch the now front-running Baptists.

Dean Waite went all the way for the Baptists, receiving strong support (understatement) offen sively from his teammates who gave him a total of 35 hits for 30 runs. Harold Clough and Henry (Diapers) Hall both toiled feverishly on the mound for the Second Church. Dick Burrowes was the big gun for the Baptists, clouting three homers, one with the sacks loaded. Tom Powers also hit one for the winners Henry Hall and Davey French each came up with a homer apiece for the ill-fated Second

Playing With Fire

A recent fire in an adjoining city in which a number of lives were lost should certainly be taken with grave concern by every apartment house owner and those people living in any type of multiple dwelling.

In-Newton there are numerous homes that at one time were single or two family dwellings, but due to the housing shortage, have been converted without permission into small apartment homes. Many of these now house three or more families. The work in many of them has been done without a permit or inspection by proper authorities.

In many of them the correct means of egress for the number of families living there is not sufficient under these circumstances. Some have only one stairway from the upper floors. If this is cut off, due to a fire, they are usually trapped until the fire department arrives. Atics that are finished off usually have a very narrow stairway and small windows so that it is hard to escape through them. These are but a few of the items that are overlooked by the owners in order that they can make some fast money.

Unless there is a fire or some other type of disaster, many of these overcrowded conditions are not discovered.

The occupants for the most part do not want to complain lest they be requested

Even with all of the new homes that are being built in Newton, the changing of old homes into multiple dwellings continues under cover. The fire loss record, as far as lives are concerned here, is remarkable and it is to be hoped that it will continue. But some day, luck will stop short and in just such an "under cover" conversion home apartment house job, we will read of some horrible fire deaths which might have been

It is not too late to stop and re-consider the possibilities of what could happen in a fire in these "converted apartment homes" and do the necessary work that might help prevent a fire from spreading or provide adequate means of escape from the upper

An automatic fire warning device that would arouse the tenants would be of some

Excuses and lame ideas do not save lives, it is only correct and honest actions that prevent trouble from happening.

To those people who have changed their homes to multiple dwellings and small apartments which lack the common safety requirements, now is the time to act and rect these mistakes before disaster strikes without warning in the home. The saving of just one life is worth more than all the money collected for rents.

Negligence in not complying with the common safety regulations that are set-up for buildings would be a hard thing to explain to a Coroner's jury if lives are lost in a home changed "under-cover" by a serious fire.

Obey the home building laws and live. Disregard them and you yourself may be fire's next victim.

See You on the Fifth!

Where are you going to be July 5? At home? At work? On vacation On vacation?

Are you real sure? What makes you so certain you may not be one of the hundreds who will start out on a Fourth of July holiday trip-and won't come back'

Not a pleasant thought, is it? You may even be a little provoked that we've brought it up. Well, that's all right with us. For the more provoked you get, the more you may think about this Fourth of July traffic toll that annually makes a massacre out of a holiday that ought to be for pleasure and patriotism, not for tragedy.

You think it couldn't be you? That's what the 360 people thought who were killed over the Memorial Day holiday just a month ago. That's what the 8,936 people thought who have died in holiday traffic in the last six years.

Yes, that's right—8,936 people killed in holiday traffic in the last six years! Almost three times as many as were killed at Pearl Harbor. Half as many as have died for America on the battlefields of Korea.

How many of these 8,936 people thought when they started out during the holiday that they would never come back 'Not one!

This one was just driving around the block to get a morning paper. This one was tak-ing his family to visit friends in Peoria. This one was merely crossing the street. Not one of them was purposely going out to get killed-NOT ONE!

So, you see, it could be you.

But here's the bright spot in the picture:

it doesn't have to be you!

The National Safety Council, which has the grim responsibility for estimating these holiday tolls in advance, says you can make its estimates look silly by merely using a little extra caution, common sense and courtesy to offset the extra holiday traffic haz-The Council says the toll could be cut in half, or even by two thirds, if you and I would make up our minds that, by golly, we aren't going to be one of those holiday traffic statistics.

It's just that simple. Instead of saying, "It couldn't be me," just say, "It won't be me!" Then act accordingly.

That's all there is to it.

"1. The taxpayers, faced with an extraordinary tax increase. are entitled to this slight relief. "2. The Assessors' proposal leaves a safe margin of surplus for emergency needs. "3. The smaller the surplus, the closer the scrutiny of post budget spending proposals.

"4. Adoption of the Assessors recommendation as approved would forestall any criticism that Newton is beginning to play politics with its surplus.

"5. The recommendation is in accord with good legal taxing principles.

The surplus as of April 30 which the city can use to hold down the 1952 ter rate amounts to more than $440,000. By using the proposed $350.000 to lower the rate by about $1.60, a balance of over $90,000 in the funds permitted to be used for this purpose would be left free.

On the basis of figures presented by Mr. Wright, chairman of the Board of Assessors, at the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen, the taxpayers of Newton face a tax rate increase of from $7 to $1. per thousand in 1952. When such an unprecedented added contribution is to be required, it would seem better at least to assist the citizens this does not believe that there is any year to the extent of about $1.60 inclination to adopt that practic on the rate.

Some of the Aldermen believe that the $90,000 which would rewould not be enough for emergencies. Actually more than the $90,000 will be available before the end of the year as back taxes are collected. Furthermore the prospect of a reasonably estimated $500,000 in funds from the state over and above the amount which we can now use in calculating the 1952 rate will insure an ample surplus at the close of 1952 provided that the city does not make excessive expenditures beyond the provisions of the budget and borrowings. The Mayor thus approved a safe and sound proposal.

"One of the prominent weaknesses in Newton's spending habits has been the authorization of new undertakings by the city after the annual budget has been adopted. This criticism does not mean that the jobs were not advisable, but is directed more at the procedure. The criticism is pertinent because as we have year. come to operate on a narrowing financial margin, dislocations car and have been more frequent under present procedure.

"In practice, as any present or former alderman will agree, new programs have often been put before the Board for immediate action with almost no notice. Some such situations are bound to occur, but their incidence in Newton seems unduly high.

"When the department heads, the executive and the aldermen know there is a substantial surplus on hand, it is only natural that they tend to have the money voted for a specific job more readily, and frequently thus to deplete the surplus. There is not the necessity to analyze the proposals so closely or to consider them in relation to the over all city programs. In short, a sub stantial surplus can act as a temtation as well as a safeguard and

"The attitude grows that Newton is comfortably well off and can stand a little more extra expense at any given moment without too much trouble. It is worth noting that at the most recent formal discussion of surplus and the probable tax rate, not one alderman suggested that any city service could be curtailed or provided more economically; on the contrary there was some viewing with alarm that some citizen might suggest such a possibility.

"In any event, the need to borrow heavily this year and to raise the tax rate substantially at the same time indicates that we have come to the end of the period when any automatic large surplus can ease the load. "Since Newton is clearly headed toward a higher level of tax rates, would it not be preferable to spread the increase over the two years rather than to push the rate up by over 25 per cent now with the distinct possibility of a lower rate in 1953? It cer tainly would alloy the taxpayers to make the necessary adjustments more easily. "Heretofore in Newton the practice of raising the tax rate in off years so high that it can be lowered in election years has not now, but it is a practical possibility that cannot be overlooked.

"Basically the surplus belongs main if $350,000 is returned to to the tax paying citizens. The the citizens in the form of a theory in Massachusetts is that lower-than-otherwise tax rate with the exception of holding an amount for reasonable emergen cy the municipality is not to build up heavy reserves which can be readily tapped, but instead is to tax its citizens only for their actual and immediately foreseeable requirements during "The time is now here when we should encourage a levelling off in our rate of expenditure rather than make it easier to spend.

"A partial solution to the problem of supplementary appropria-tions after the budget is passed would be to adopt an ordinance requiring the Planning Board an nually to provide a long range capital improvement, program and budget for five or six year in advance, and to submit to the Mayor each December detailed budget estimates of the proj ects proposed to be undertaken in the immediately following

"Earmarked money already in the hands of the Public Works and Public Building Departments which was not to be turned back on December 31 would also be shown. The Mayor then would review the detailed program the ensuing year as he does the estimates for any regular city department and incorporate what he decided to approve into his regular budget recommendations to the aldermen. "This procedure would bring the entire program of capital improvements, reconstruction, maintenance and repair of Newton's physical property within the one budget document and would prevent a large number of sudden later-in-the-year proposals being handled on an individual hurry-

"The planning for the years following the current one would not need to be in such great detail for it would be subject to revision each time. It would not be possible even in estimating for the immediate year to foresee all trol and perspective with relation to one of the city's most costly group of activities."

Calls Bond Debt Second Mortgage

Rawson Says State Debt Now Over $700 Million Plus Other Costs

During last week's bitter debate in the House of Represen-tatives over Governor Dever's $42 million capital outlays bill, Representative George E. Rawson was one of those who fought against the bill. The bond issue to pay for it will bring the total of State indebtedness to over $700 million, with interest and debt service amounting to some $35 million a year which future generations will have to pay. In the debate, Rawson quoted Herbert Hoover's famous re-mark, "Blessed are the young, for they shall inherit the taxes." He called the bonded indebted ness of the State a 10 per cent second mortgage on the assessed valuation of all property in the State. "Truman and his gang hold the first mortgage" tinued Rawson, and he warned that Massachusetts is rapidly borrowing herself into bankruptcy and that we all are going bankrupt if the process keeps on. - MORTGAGE -(Continued on Page 6)

The unit, designed by Schutte & Koerting Co., of Philadelphia, is 20 feet long, 7 feet wide and 9 feet high and will have 265 gallons of water sprayed through it every minute. The installation of this unit is the result of complaints lodged by residents of the area and the Newton Improvement Association, and company officials believe its operation will reduce by practically 90 percent, any odors now emitting from manufacture of its

Good Ol' Summertime With July's sun tuning up for the on-coming dog days, all of us hark back to the carefree days when summer meant a long vacation.

The average man who is tied to a desk in the hot city, in retrospect feels once more the stimulating shock of a dive into the old swimmin' hole where deep springs chilled The farmer mopping his brow as he pitches new-mown hay, thrills to the tug of a long-broken fish-line. And mother, cooking dinner for her menfolk, hears again the roar of surf as she remembers that summer she met Daddy at the beach.

The grilling sun revives our dreams as it ripens fruit and gain and bakes the aches out of our bodies. And if it gets too hot, we can always recall those "snows of yesteryear" which will be back again next winter.

"Do It Yourself" Lauded as Saving To Home Builders

Under the caption, "Modern Living," Time Magazine in its June 30 issue, features a story on the ever-widening trend of "Do It Yourself" building. Citing instances where people, who have never before done manual work, have successfully and economically built homes of their own—a sure method of defeating the high cost of housing—Time points out that their experiments are far from exceptional. All over the U.S., thousands of couples are building their own homes; thousands more are re-modeling their old ones.

This is convention time and New Englands, no less than other Americans, are focusing their eyes on Chicago these days. And well they should, for more than ordinary reasons, because New England politicians will be playing prominent roles-and throwing a lot of weight around—at both of the conventions this month.

Congressman Joe Martin of Massachusetts, Republican leader in the House of Representatives, will wield the gavel over the Republican proceedings. That job is one that carries tremendous power and responsibility, which Joe has been insisting he will use with strict fairness in spite of his known partiality for the Taft cause.

There could be no finer testinonial to the fine public service of Boston's Joseph P. Shifting Industries

We are all very much aware monies marking the fiftieth an of the movement of large parts niversary of the American Auto of the textile industry to the South, but what is not so widely "Let's show our visitors real Yankee hospitality," the AAA official advised guests at the golden jubilee celebration who included alvie location who been various reasons for this, some of them even more impressive than the reasons that are so well known for the movement of textiles southward.

There is not space here to go int a number of these formerly important New England indust ries so let us just take a quick look at one of them. It will suggest some of the reasons for these exits from our midst.

This industry is glass-making which one time centered right here in the Northeast. By far the greater part of all glass made in this country is now manufactured in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia. The basic factor in the shift was the technological revolution which came to glass-making over the past few decades.

The major considerations for the location of the industry became proximity to markets and to cheap fuel. We had the one to cheap fuel. We had the one but not the other. The states mentioned above not only afford market proximity, but also are centers of natural gas produc-tion, thus giving the glass makers a cheap and limitless supply of an easily handled fuel.

In 1948, as a heavy taxpayer, I favored the adoption of the humanitarian principles accept-ing the 48 hour plan for New-ton's firemen. It was approved enthusiastically by thousands of a majority by the citizens of Newton. It became operative in 1949. For the information of Newton's taxpayers the tax rate in that year was $36 on a total property valuation of $7,128.8011.80. Our Newton tax rate remained the same in 1950 with the 48 hour plan for firemen still in operation and the taxable valuation increased some $240,000. Now, in 1952, FOUR years after its adoption, the firemen's 48 hour plan is being "blamed" for $1.40 of the proposed increase. I, as business property and home owner, believe in fair play. If the proposed increase is to be partly blamed on one group of city workers why not include ALL. Deservedly and rightfully the police, city workers, teachers were given increases in salary and costof. creases in salary and cost-ofliving bonus payments, yet, their classifications are not mentioned as a contributing factor in the $11.60 increase. Why? Why single out one particular group who provide such excellent protec-tion that Newton's fire insurance rates are among the lowest in the United States for cities of our population.

If a four year old alibi is being used why not revert to give consideration to our $29 tax rate in 1946 when the property valuation in the Garden City was $2,500,000 LESS than it is today

Recent Measle Epidemic Is Nearing End

Dr. Ernest M. Morris, director of Public Health in the June Communicable Disease Report for the city, indicates that the recent measles epidemic here is approaching its end.

Cases reported during June were 142, compared with 234 in May and 290 in February which was the peak month since the start of the epidemic at the be-ginning of this year. Only 7 cases were reported during the final week of June, indicating that the epidemic end was near, Dr. Morris stated.

German measles also showed a sharp drop during June from the previous month as 83 cases were reported last month compared with 116 during May.

Following is the communicable diseases reported during June, compared with June, 1951:

Vote to Extend East Little League 2 Week

The president and managers of the Newton East Little League at a meeting held June 26, unanimously voted to extend the league's schedule for an additional period of two weeks to July 16, in an effort to give more boys an opportunity to play.

This extension of the playing season will permit more 11 year old pitchers to fill the little league requirement that a 12year old pitcher must have pitched at least 18 innings of little league ball before becoming

Another advantage noted by the league personnel is that the East Leaguers can keep in condi-tion for the Newton City Championship and All Star Play which will be held later in July.

Socialism Breeds Waste

A group of experts known as the President's materials policy commission has been conducting a long-range study of the nation's resources. In the course of a five-volume report the conclusion is reached that the United States is exhausting its resources so rapidly that future security and economic expansion are "seriously" threatened.

There is no question but that rapid population growth and phenomenally high living standards, coupled with a continuing military emergency, are consuming materials of all kinds at a rate that calls for intelligent use and practical conservation of resources. No one is more aware of these hard facts than industries which produce the goods and services that keep the country going. One of the greatest benefits of the competitive system is its relentless push toward fullest utilization of natural resources. A pound of coal, a gallon of oil, a tree from the forestall are used far more effectively now than ever before.

Ironically, a cause of great and needless waste of both energy and resources is found in the ideological warfare between the individual and the state being waged in our country. Politicians constantly seek to extend the authority of government while private citizens must constantly fight for rights and liberties which are supposed to be guaranteed to them under the Constitution. Government seizure of the steel industry was one example. Another is the long continuing effort of Socialist planners to destroy the right of property ownership by nationalizing the electric industry.

Socialism, which means making the state the master of the individual, is always first with them. The resultant waste of energy and materials that can be laid directly at their door is incalculable. This is the price we pay for trying to mix regulated private enterprise and socialism. The plain fact is we cannot afford it.

Sound Advice

President Wilfred Chagnon of the Newton Chamber of Commerce this week stated some pertinent facts which every citizen of this city should heed.

Newton, which prides itself on being known as the Garden City, and justifiably so, can still stand some improvement, not from its physical attributes but from residents and citizens of the community.

In speaking of this situation, President Chagnon said: "Any cleanup campaign deserves the support of every person who owns or controls preparty. A had said to the controls preparty. or controls property. A bad apple can spoil a whole barrel. A neglected house can ruin an entire neighborhood.

"When a street is improved, every piece of property on it is made more valuable. Investments are protected. Real estate sales are easier. Prices are higher.

"There is another phase to the clean-up effort which is just as important. A clean residential area is a healthy one. Illnesses and epidemics which spring from filth are reduced almost to the vanishing point, and the savings can be as much as a thousand times the price of soap, water and paint."

This is sound advice. A little more thoughtfulness on the part of some residents of Newton, can materially aid in accomplishing this purpose.

Current Comment

Democratic Nominee Seen Uncertain; Dever Has Chance for Vice President

is the lull between the political storms. Within a few days the powerful television cameras will again be centered on Chicago's big convention hall, and people in their living rooms will watch from ringside seats as the Democrats select their candidate to match against Ike.

Up to this point, at least, there is no indication that the Democratic conclave will be marked by the bitterness aroused by the tremendous Taft-Eisenhower battle, but there is a great deal of confusion in the minds of the Democratic politicians preparing to converge on Chicago. The men who it is believed would have the best chance of winning against General Eisenhower have said they don't want the nomination, and for one reason for another most of the party politicos are unenthusiastic about the candidates bidding most strenouously for the right to carry the Democratic banner.

Having just returned from Chicago, where Seantor Taft had the nomination snatched away from him when it was almost within his grasp, this observer is somewhat hesitant about advancing any predictions as to what is likely to happen next week in the capital of the Middle West, but these are some of the possible developments:

to change his mind and run for a third term. from "stealing" it from their candidate, all mittee hearings, placed a doubt in the minds report for our regional well-benothed depends on where your sympathies lie. if the President shows the slightest sign of weakening. These are the choices that will con-front the Democratic delegates, if Messrs. Truman and Stevenson both turn down the appeals of party leaders and insist that theybe counted out as

Presidential possibilities. Vice President Barkley is probably the top possibility. His age is the only thing vent the televising and broadcasting of the dust o Ike very quickly. that prevents him from being an overwhelming favorite. The convention may turn to him through sheer necessity and because there isn't anybody else, despite the fact that he's far beyond the age at which a man normally would run for the Presidency.

b. Senator Estes Kefauver, who has demonstrated vote-getting ability, largely because the crime hearings over voich he presided early in 1951 caught the public imagination. But he is not popular either with the big-State and big-city Democratic bosses in the North or the Dixiecrats in the South. His Senator colleagues consider him a mediocre office-holder somewhat on the dull side.

W. Averell "Honest Ave" Harriman, who talks, looks and acts something like former Boston School Committeeman Joseph Lee. The son of the former railroad tycoon, Harriman is considered to be worth $40, 000,000, add or subtract a few million, but he is running strictly on a poor man's New Deal-Fair Deal platform. A one-time Presidential errand boy, Harriman is a darkhorse prospect if Truman and Stevenson remain unwilling to step forward against Ike.

d. Senator Richard S. Russell of Georgia, the hope of the South. He is probably the most able man in the entire list, because of the feeling over the civil to achieve his election.

Senator Robert B. Kerr of Oklahoma, the oil man who was born in a log cabin but is now a millionaire, a very astute politician is now a millionaire, a very astute politician obtainable anywhere. So the cies placed $11,454,700 worth of only measure of the success of contracts. But out of all that that the South will swing behind as its sec-ond choice to Russell and that he'll be the man to carry the Democratic banner against General Eisenhower.

It is unlikely that the Democratic convention will be an open fight, with the candidates running on their own, bidding for support and making trades and deals to bolster their chances. Perhaps it will turn out that way, but our guess is that if neither President Truman nor Governor Stevenson is willing to run, the Democratic Governors will get together, agree upon a candidate and throw their united weight behind him. They have the votes to put anyone they want, especially if they get the blessing of Mr. Truman. If Governor Stevenson is prevailed upon to accept the nomination, here is a good chance that Governor Dever will be selected as his running mate, and the choice probably would be between Dever and Russell for second place on a ticket headed by Steven-

Democratic leaders in other parts of the country believe Stevenson would need someone like Dever on the ticket with him to strengthen him in Massachusetts and other Eastern States.

Dever also is a Vice Presidential possibility in the event of the nomination of Kefauver or Russell but probably would not be considered if either Barkley or Harriman were the top candidate.

Mr. Dever some time ago observed that "canonical impediment" eliminates him as a Presidential candidate. It is also a fact that religion enters into the Vice Presidential cansideration.

Because Stephenson has been divorced realistic Democratic politicians think that Dever, a Catholic, would be an important asset on their national ticket, if the Illinois

Governor were the Presidential nominee Russell would need a strong Northern running made if he were the candidate. So would Kefauver and Kerr. Harriman is from New York and would have to choose his running mate from either the West or the South. Democratic leaders will give careful thought to the selection of the Vice Presidential nominee in the event Barkley is the candidate because of his age and the possibility that he might not live through a four-year term.

Party leaders in the South and in some other parts of the country would not consent to picking a Catholic to run with Barkley. It is unfortunate that religious considerations enter into the Presidential picture as much as they do, but we are trying to give you the cold facts so you may better understand some of the things happening in Chicago next week.

Before General Eisenhower had any chance of winning the nomination, his men had to take votes away from Senator Taft which he had in his pocket when the con-vention began, but that is exactly what the Ike lieutenants did.

General Eisenhower will be a stronger candidate in the Eastern and Western States than Taft would have been. But the Taft adherents are so bitter that Ike may encounter real trouble in the normally Republican States of the Middle West, States such as Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin and Iowa.

Whether Ike can maintain his great popularity is uncertain. He will come under scathing attack from Democratic politicians once the battle is joined. His views on domestic matters do not appear radically different from thoseof Taft, and in the hard give and take of a Presidential campaign it remains to be seen whether he can stand up.

It also remains to be seen whether the Democrats can come up with a potent candidate to run against him. We doubt that anyone like Averell Harriman is going to

After seeing both sides in the Chicago convention endeavor to take advantage of hopelessly inadequate primary laws, it is nice to see our candidate for vide president, Senator Nixon, come out for Federal legislation to correct this evil. I hope that in cluded in these laws will be a strong prohibition against any public official being eligible for election as a delegate to the national convention. Also, these delegates should be pledged subject only to the release b the candidate himself. In that way, the people will have the final word in the selection of a can didate instead of the politica bosses. Another disgraceful con vention such as we have just passed through, dominated as it was by political bosses, could very well destroy the two-party system and the democratic pro-

Are Needed

Beginning this week the Observation Tower at Prospect Hill must be manned 24 Lours a day by Volunteer Airplane Spotters.

The country is now in a critical and crucial period of inter-national relations and tension among nations at the present time is at a very high pitch.

This problem of lack of volunteers for this purpose constitutes a real emergency to the City of Waltham and surrounding communities.

The Air Corps has ordered this round-the-clock vigil because of the ineffectiveness of Radar and other mechanical means of de tecting enemy aircraft.

Upon the shoulders and keer eyesight of volunteers on watch for the enemy could very well come the first intimation of danger.

These volunteers could be the means whereby our citizens could be given adequate warning which would mean their survival.

They could be the means whereby our aircraft would be alerted to take off and stop the enemy in his tracks.

In spite of an extensive campaign for volunteers to date the response has not been gratifying. This is an emergency! These ranks must be filled now! This

Subscriptions Due To Rising Costs With the price of Canadian ewsprint going to a record high many newspaper readers across the nation are paying a few cents more each week for their papers. A recent survey showed prices for single copies, home deliveries or mail subscriptions have been boosted by newspapers in more than 40 cities. Many other popers indicated price increases were under consideration, and some boosted their charges earlier in the year, when higher cost of newspring was anticipated. Most of the newspapers cited the newsprint price boost as a major factor in their decisions, at the same time pointing to continuing advances in other costs of production. newsprint hike, effective June 16. brought the price per ton to $126 at New York, highest in history survey showed readers eral Eastern and Midwestern cities are finding prices one to two cents higher per copy. In the San Francisco Bay area some increases of three cents have been posted, with the single copy price now 10 cents. Sunday papers in a number of cities cost three to five cents Just last Sunday the Boston Herald announced that the price of the Sunday Herald outside of the Greater Boston area was being increased to 20 cents. Other Sunday editions that have been increased from 15 to 20 cents are the New York Times and Herald-Tribune, Cleveland Plain Dealer, San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner, and Oakland, Calif., Tribune. The Akron, O., Beacon-Journal Sunday paper advanced 15 cents from 12 cents; the Rochester, N. Y., Democrat & Chronicle and the Dayyton, O., Daily News to 15 cents from 10 cents. The Dayton Journal Herald boosted its Saturday paper to 10 cents

Time Was When ...

Time was when $10,000 a year was a lot of money. Only the relative few earned or had a reasonable hope of earning as much. Even nowadays, with record taxes and a four-bit dollar, it is far more than most families ever see, the average income being in the neighborhood of $3,000.

Yet there is a $10,000-a-year class of people in this country who simply can't make both ends meet, economize as they will. That, at least, is the theme of a fascinating article in the July issue of Harper's magazine, called "Going Broke on $10,000 a Year," which is signed with the pseudonym Jay Taylor. This class consists of junior business executives who must put up a front, appear to live very well, have good addresses, entertain as a part of their job, and donate generously to charities and other worthy causes. Mr. Taylor writes early in his article: "I'm a symbol-and a simpleton. I'm a symbol of the group from which business leaders used to be drawn, a group now being liquidated . . .

Mr. Taylor goes into meticulous details as to his finances, and it's quite a story. Last year, he wrote, he earned $10,400 and spent $10,456. And here, in capsule form, is what happened to his money. To get the full flavor of the account, of course, the whole article should be read.

First of all he actually got not $10,400 but $8,978, taxes having accounted for the difference. His first outgo was for rent— $1,656. This, he says, is about as little as he could pay without moving to so cheap a neighborhood that he would lose cast with his associates and endanger future promo-

Several hundred dollars went out for unavoidable household expenses such as utilities, and his wife got $2,049, or some $40 a week, to buy the food and other supplies needed by a family of four. Furniture swallowed $274, and insurance $471. Mr. Taylor has no car and says he can't possibly afford one, but commutation tickets cost him $190 and are scheduled to go up in price.

Doctors and dentists accounted for $264. and the children's expenses, such as their clothes and school books and a summer

Mr. Taylor's conclusion is typical of the tone of his article: "So I speak as one small symbol of a class. I look at the broken down occasional chair which should have been replaced a year ago. I postpone my trip to the dentist for another six months in hopes that the pediatrician's bill can be paid in the interval. And I realize that I belong to a new class of forgotten men in whom no labor leaders, politicians, farmers, corporation presidents, or commencement speakers take any vested interest-the $10,-000-a-year-man, Vanquished Americans."

A Better Place to Shop

It is axiomatic that a successful retailer, small or large, chain or independent, must devote much of his time to thinking about his customers-about what Mr. and Mrs. America like and don't like, what they will buy and won't buy. The consumer, after all, is king-he can make or break any store by giving or denying his patronage.

Of late, a great many retailers have been giving increasing attention to ways and means of making their stores more attractive to the customer. This work is taking two forms. One is to get certain facts bet ter known, and to offset such widely-held misconceptions that retail prices are unnecessarily high and that retail profits are exorbitant.

The second phase of the work lies in recog nizing the fact that the importance of employes to the success of every retail enterprise cannot be over-stated. The employees are the people who come in direct personal contact with the customers-and a rude, inefficient, or indifferent employe can drive little girls, now grown, in the armies of people right out the doors and Newtons.

The photographer has finished taking pictures before the mirror in the bride's room (you were down the street to another store. Moreover, employes are customers too, and they are members of all kinds of far-reaching influential social groups.

In many cases, store managements have awakened with a start to the unhappy fact that their employes are doing a poor job. In some cases, that is the fault of the employe himself--he may just be unfitted to retail duties. In other cases, it is the fault besieged with engagements for pictures, he's already taken of management, which has failed to train and wedding receptions. Local caeducate him properly. The only time our enthusiasm waned was on the long hot treks back and forth from our hotels to the far-off stock yards, where the perfume (not of roses) greeted our nostrils. But even these rides on buses, subway or elevated had their compensation, for at this time you might sit next to the Governor of Nebras-ka, H. V. Kaltenborn or the Gov ernor of Kansas. Everyone spoke to everyone else and there was a feeling of friendliness even be-tween delegates bedecked with rival IKE and TAFT buttons. Spirited discussions of events, rumors and predictions flew through the cars, — interesting friendships were made. About the actual events themselves, due to modern communication methods, the people at home knew more than we did, who sat in our seats most of the time, except when we were starving for a hot dog or hamburger, because of the irregular hours and the great distance from our hotels. S.S. Payments to Increase in Fall

Thousands of people in the Cambridge area which includes Newton, will receive higher social security payments as a result of the social security amendments which President Truman signed into the law last Friday, July 18. The first increased checks will be for the month of September delivered early in October.

James T. Phelan, manager of the Cambridge social security office, emphasized that no one needs to apply for the increased payments. "The Social Security Administration is already changing the amounts," he pointed out. We expect to get them changed in time to have them in the mail October 3, the regular delivery date, but if in a few cases we don't meet that schedule we'll send the regular check and make up the difference in a later a strong political team in Massachusetts. Despite the post-convention statements from Bay State Democratic leaders hailing "winning ticket," they are privately doubtful that Stevenson and Sparkman can defeat General Eisenhower and Senator Nixon

With Sparkman as his running mate, Stevenson seems sure of carrying the solid South. He probably will capture his own State of Illinois, and the bitterness of Taft supporters in Ohio may give him the Buckeye State as well.

The big question then will be whether he can pick up enough additional electoral votes in other States to defeat Ike. Massachusetts, despite the fact that it has gone Democratic in every Presidential election since 1924, is counted a doubtful State.

One thing that should not be overlooked is the marked difference in the statements issued by a number of prominent Bay State politicos before and after the nomination of the suave, debonair Stevenson.

They obviously were voicing their real opinions before his nomination and adjusted their comments to meet the demands of political expediency after it, because the Illinois Governor himself did and said nothing to change their minds.

An exception was outspoken District Attorney William J. Foley who, at a Massa-chusetts caucus before Stevenson's nomina-tion, served notice that he wasn't going back to Boston and tell the people he voted for a "divorcee" and a "witness for Alger Hiss." After the big swing to Stevenson, Foley remained silent and said nothing.

Except for Governor Dever and the delegates he could control, the prominent Massachusetts Democrats declined to vote for Stevenson even on the third ballot when they knew his nomination was inevitable.

The normal desire to be with the winner wasn't great enough to swing Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin, Congressman John W. McCormack, Mayor John B. Hynes, Attorney General Francis E. Kelly, Mayor John Lynch of Somerville, Mayor Daniel M. Brunton of Springfield, City Council President Gabriel F. Piemonte, Councillor John E. Kerrigan, Councillor Michael J. Ward and Governor's Councillor Patrick J. Sonny McDonough to Stevenson

Tobin, McCormack, Kelly and Lynch stood with Barkley as a sentimental gesture to he old man. Hynes and Brunton voted for Kefauver even when the latter was waiting on the platform to withdraw from the race.

McDonough's vote was an interesting one. He's a professional politician, shrewd and astute. He gave his half-vote to Governor Dever when Dever himself had withdrawn as a favorite-son candidate and was imploring the Massachusetts delegates to follow his leadership and support Stevenson.

Why did these men, sound politicians all of them, not only turn down Dever's request but also shy away from a winning bandwagon and deliberately stay off it? In the ment. case of Tobin and McCormack, they may have been carrying through a sentimental gesture for Barkley. But some of the others quite apparently did not want to place themselves on record as voting for Stevenson.

It's pretty unusual for political pros to pass up an opportunity to be with the winner, but these men did exactly that.

Delegates Merely Followed Dever's Wishes A good many of the 50 Massachusetts delegates who voted for Stevenson did so with real reluctance and only because of the fear that they would be "out" if they disobeyed Dever.

Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin is a shining example. Cronin voted for Steven-son on the third ballot and when he arrived at the South Station on Sunday he told reporters Stevenson was "a good choice" to head the Democratic ticket, a "terrific speaker loaded with personality" and is certain to be elected.

It is because of politicians like Mr. Cronin that political writers wind up talking to themselves and managing editors look askance at their reporters and wonder where they got some of the ideas they injected into their news stories.

At a caucus of the Massachusetts delegation on Thursday of last week, Cronin spoke out against Stevenson. He said that Stevenson's campaign had been "an insult to the intelligence" and an "insult to the people."

On Friday, during the balloting, the Massachusetts contingent held another caucus. Cronin was absent at the time, and his alternate voted for Stevenson. The Secretary of State hustled back, insisted that he was voting, not his alternate, and that he wanted to be recorded for Barkley.

Words followed between Dever and Cronin. What was said during the conversation was not heard by this writer, but when Mr. Dever finished speaking his piece to Mr. Cronin, the latter voted for Adlai E. Stevenson, whose campaign, in his own words, had been "an insult to the people."

This should not be construed as an attack upon Governor Stevenson or anyone who voted for him. We are simply informing our readers of some of the things that happened at Chicago.

Governor Dever insisted that he wasn't trying to pressure anyone, that he was letting the delegates know his position so they wouldn't be in ignorance of it. He said he felt that was only fair to the delegates.

Maybe so, but Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr., at the first caucus announced that he was for Barkley if the latter's name was placed in nomination. He knew at the time that Dever was beating the drums for Stevenson, but after the Governor finished talking to him he recorded himself for the Illinois Governor. And there were several other similar cases.

Congressman McCormack, who with Secretary Tobin stood with Vice President Barkley, warned the Massachusetts delegates, prior to the balloting, that they had better give some thought to selecting a Presidential candidate who would be strong in their own State. His obvious implication was that Stevenson did not meet that require-

In weighing the vote-getting potential of Stevenson in Massachusetts, you should keep in mind other statements made prior to the

For instance, the belief was widely expressed that Governor Dever would be selected as Stevenson's Vice Presidential running mate if it was considered Stevenson was completely safe in the South. Dever, it was felt, would bolster Stevenson in Massachusetts and other Eastern States where he needed streng-

But as a result of the feeling aroused by the battle over the so-called loyalty resolu-tion, it was deemed necessary to make some overture to the South since Stevenson could not possibly win the Presidency without the solid bloc of Southern electoral votes.

So it was decided to gamble on carrying Massachusetts and other doubtful Eastern States and to sew up the South by selecting Senator Sparkman, possibly the most liberal and progressive of all the Southern Senators, to team with Stevenson.

Many politicos had anticipated that Stevenson would tap Russell who is even more popular in the South than Sparkman and who is well respected by most North-

Our guess is that Russell was finally ruled out because the strategists in the Stevenson camp decided it might be unwise to have a divorced man and a bachelor heading the Democratic ticket and that they had better

They believe that Stevenson will be unable to draw the support of certain elements of the voting population in their State and particularly in New York City. Exactly the same thing will be true on a smaller scale in Massachusetts and especially Boston.

Why, we have been asked many times since our return from Chicago, did the Democratic bosses draft Stevenson?

The answer is that he appeared to have the best chance of defeating General Eisenhower and that of all the nominees he came the closest to being acceptable to all sections of the country.

Barkley at 74 was too old to place in the White House, even though, as Secretary Tobin insisted, he seemingly has the strength and stamina of a man of 60.

Harriman was the ADA candidate. Neither he nor Kefauver was acceptable to the South, and Russell would have been a poor vote-getter in the North. Kerr apparently didn't have any real appeal outside his home State, and the rest were strictly favorite-son candidates.

If Stevenson had persisted in refusing to run, it's likely that President Truman would have had little alternative but to yield to a draft.

Stevenson's backers were plainly worried at the end of the second ballot, and it's fair to say that if the Illinois Governor had not won the nomination on the third ballot, he would have been just about out of the race.

As it was, even after Harriman threw him his support, Stevenson did not have the necessary votes to win nomination until Kefauver conceded the fight. RANDOM CONVENTION JOTTINGS:

Many Democratic politicos wonder how much capital the Republicans will make of certain of Stevenson's statements. When he was asked before the convention what he would do if he were nominated, he said he might go out shoot himself. He also told the Illinois delegation he considered himself mentally, physically and temperamentally unfit to run for the Presidency.

If the convention had been held anywhere but Chicago, the other candidates readily apparent at first glance.
